

Danielak Earns Bank Award for Outstanding Service

Jeanie Danielak recently received the 2018 Mary L. Staudenmaier WINGS (Worthy Individual Noted for Generous Service) Award. This award was named in honor of The Stephenson National Bank & Trust's (SNBT) former-chairman and long-time president. The award epitomizes Danielak's unwavering participation in public service for the community.

"We are always happy to give this award to a worthy employee and we have been able to do so for over a decade," said Daniel J. Peterson, SNBT president and CEO.

"It has been appropriately named in honor of Mary Staudenmaier; who demonstrates the importance of serving our area through ceaseless community involvement of her own."

Danielak, Trust Officer with SNBT since 2011, was presented with the WINGS Award due to her remarkable level of community service. She pledged 326 volunteer hour of service to various organizations within the community including serving as president of the M&M Area Youth Hockey Association, board member on the Brian LaViolette Foundation, committee member for the M&M Area Community Foundation, and member of the Grover-Porterfield Women's Auxiliary.

To recognize her dedication, Danielak received the WINGS plaque and her name and photograph will be added to the WINGS display in the Marinette location. In addition, the bank has made a $500 contribution in her name to the M&M Youth Hockey Association.

As a Trust Officer, Danielak's primary focus is working closely with clients and their families to plan for their future financial needs, whether saving for college, retirement, or leaving their legacy. She graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University, is a Certified Trust and Financial Advisor, and is also a graduate of American Bankers Association's National Graduate Trust School.
